Overview

McKinsey & Company is a global management consulting firm committed to helping organizations create Change that Matters. In more than 130 cities and 65 countries, our teams help clients across the private, public and social sectors shape bold strategies and transform the way they work, embed technology where it unlocks value, and build capabilities to sustain the change. Not just any change, but Change that Matters – for their organizations, their people, and in turn society at large.

Our clients

Our commitment to our clients and the impact we jointly bring about is the fundamental value of our firm. We bring the best of our global firm, working in an integrated way across regions, sectors, and disciplines to ensure our clients improve immediate performance and build long-term organizational health. Our clients have full access to all the knowledge we have built through decades of work.

Our people

The quality of our people determines how well we serve our clients and we focus tremendous resources on identifying, hiring, and developing them. We have global support networks for women, LGBTQ, Hispanic and Latino, and Black consultants.

Our knowledge development

We invest more than $600 million of our firm's resources annually in capability building and knowledge development, which allows us to bring the best thinking to our clients. We established our in-house think tank, McKinsey Global Institute, in 1990, to develop research on major challenges and trends changing the world.
