

McKinsey&Company

Integration Leaders Program Details

Integration Leadership Forum and Merger Management Bootcamp are interactive, working sessions that rapidly up-skills integration leaders

What is the MM Bootcamp?

Relevant

- Event based; directly applicable; can be held any time pre-announcement or mid-process
- Covers entire merger process, focusing on your key questions

Modular

- Half day to two day program
- Pick-and-choose modules based on “menu” of key questions and workshops tailored to your needs

Interactive

- Experience-based, not too conceptual
- Workshops focused on creating real end-products

What is the IL Forum?

Essential

- Modules focus on specific integration topics from integration architecture to value capture to flawless Day 1 execution

Hands-on

- Participants learn while creating real deliverables that help accelerate their individual integration planning

Expert-led

- Participants learn while creating real deliverables that help accelerate their individual integration planning

Come away with

First draft of concrete end-products required in the merger process

Hands-on/operational merger integration capabilities focused on integration process

McKinsey experience, tools, and best practices around merger integration

The Integration Leader Readiness modules span the timeline from announcement to post Day 1 and enable participants to ‘rehearse’ challenging situations and gain access to knowledge and best practices for each key work stream

